To-night, the heautiful, talented, and everywhere popular actress, Mas Kate Denin, takes a heacht. The universal satisfaction which her allended acting has given during her present ongagement, which we regret to loarn will terminate next week, will ensure her a crowded house to night. This gifted lady has won a host of admirers in our city, and well does she merit the enthusiastic applause with which he is nightly greeted. The programme for to night is well selected, composed, as it is, of the amusing, as well as highly interesting place:

Grongrows, Sept. 4, 1862.

Quite an interesting meeting of the George town Corporation took place yesterday evening, in the Beard of Common Council, Mr. Tenney introduced the following resolutions in relation to the rabelline.

in the loard of Common Council, a. Feeney introduced the following resolutions in relation to the rebellion.

1. Resolved by the Board of A'dermen and Bard of Common Council of the Corporation of Borrectown, That Brig. Gen. Wadsworth brequested to issue an order revoking all license speciated by the Corporation of Georgetown, until each persen holding such license shall have taken a proper and stringent cath of allegiance, and where the Boense is held by a Brm., each individual member of the firm shall be required to take the boath. And the same oath shall be required of all renters of stalls and benches in and at the Market House, and of all persons doing any mechanical or manufacturing business, who sell their own goods; and of every clergyman before he can practice in any court in this District; and of any physician before he can practice in any court in this District; and of each and every school teacher, male or female, and all bankors and bank officers. And that any of the above-named classes of persons who continuance the present rebellion by word or died, shall upon conviction before any justice of the peace be prohibited from transacting any business parantit or profession within the limits of this District during this rebellion, under a penulty of thirty days imprisonment for each officer.

3. Resolved, further, That the Mayor be requested to lay a copy of these resolutions before tien. Wadsworth and the President of the United States.

Mr. T. advocated the immediate passage of the resolutions with his usual energy, claiming that he was a better Nouthern man than any rebel. Horn in a slaveholding community, or what would have continued to be a slaveholding community but for this rebellion, he had judged more wisely than the rebell what was the true interests of the South.

Mr. Marhury objected to the second resolution, as it included loyal as well as disloyal persons.

Into clork called the roll.

Yeas—Mesara Barrett, Clements, Collins—When Mr. Goddard's name was called, he rese and inquired if the Government had the constitutional right to issue such an order; and, if so, he would vote for it.

Mr. Tenney replied that they had the same right that they had to prohibit the sale of liquors, or to do any other set for the good and satety of the country.

Mr. Goddard thee voted "aye."

Mr. Goddard thee voted "aye."

When Mr. Bangs, the president's, name being called, he stated the resolution was an important one, and he was not prepared to vote.

Mr. Tenney moved to excuse him.

Mr. Goddard objected.

Mr. Barbury suggested that the president was not required to vote, oxcept in case of a tte, in which Mr. Tenney concurred, as being in accordance with the charter.

Mr. Bugs stated he should vote "no."

Just then the booming of a cannon was heard.

Mr. Goddard asked leave to change his vote, as did also Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Tomey said, jestingly, he heped the cannon did not affect thom.

The resolution was then passed:

There are many noble spir is in those days of our country's sore trial, whose names will never be beraided should be through of lame, but whose record "she hath done what she could," is made in the bock of life. An Smith, who, though of dark skip, is worthy of the high boner which will one day be bestowed. An humble, unansaumins Christian woman, who quietly and industriously pursues her aveoution as a traiter in the Centre Market, is doing a noble work, in her way, for our country and its brave defenders. All her leisure time she occupies in preparing lint, handages, and little delicacies for the use of the wouxded soldiers. She is an example, in many respects, for Christians in "higher positions."

Nothing oan stake her condence in the overruling providence of God. And while she believes He is the God of this, her own nativo country, yet she believes His case is over the humblest of His creatures, and she says that the cry of her race has come up before Him, His judgements are on us because it does not "let my people go."

Bhe was a slave in New Orleans many years, when the others raged so furiously. She calls that one of God's visitations for oppression towards her race. "De white loiks said we must not meet in our churches; dey wer she tup; no blessed meetins for the culled folks; but we pray to de Lord, in secret, dat he would open de church of to ur; de Lord sent de cholora; white folks die fast; dey begin to grow skeared, and day come to de culled pope de church to go away; our churches were given back, and we never been disturbed after dat." Such is the simple faith of the African. May it not be that God hides many things from "the wise and prudent, and revoals them unto babos."

The Hemesits of the Prohibitory Law.

The average number of arrests made by the Metropolitan police force for the past three months has been a little over 52 cases per day. These three months were brobably the most quiet of the year. We now have an immense army near us, and thousands of new recruits and regiments are pouring into our city. Following these ocomes the usual number of army policy are, including the speculators, rogus, this year, including the speculators, rogus, theyes, pickpockets, atrumpets, &c., &c. Besides this, our people are more than usually szcited and heated by the events transpiring around us. And yet our polica reports show but little more than half the usual number of arrests. Why is it! We can find no other assistant that which is found in the wise precaution arm that which is found in the wise precaution are than that which is found in the wise precautionary liquor law of our noble Governor, Gen. Wadsworth. May it never be annulled! We only regret that its provisions are not more stringent. If it could be made to embrace ale and lager beer, those filthy intoxicating slops, and rigidly enforced, drunkanness would eventually disappear from our streets, and with it two-thirds of all the other orines. As it is, the largest number of arrests by nearly half, are made of drunkan men. The arrests are as follows, as reported yesterday: drunkenness, loi, disorderly, 8; drunk and disorderly, 2; assault 2; larceny, 2; assault and bettery, 1; inst driving, 1; traitor, 1; violating hack law, 1; descriter, 1; dog without liceuse, 1; lunatic, 1—total, 36. The Benefits of the Prohibitory Law.

The German Aid Society.

For the relief of sick and wounded soldiers, according to its Treasurer's report, acknowledges receipts to the smount of 4620, and furnishes a statement of 318 expenditures. The association, as its name denotes, is composed of our German fellow-catizens, but its members do not conduct their sphere of action to their own countrymen alone. They may be seen at almost every landing of wounded and sick soldiers, dispersing with liberal hands to every one, no matter where he may be from. The association underwest a reorganization at its last quarterly meeting, held at Temperance Hall on Wednesday evening last, and siec cd as President John Hitz, jr., and the following sight gentlemen as vice presidents: George town, F. W. Glessking; First ward, J. Muhlenberg; Pourth ward, C. Zohn; Fith ward, R. Scheidhass: Rixth ward, G. Heitzerling; Seventh ward, A. Ehren. A. Eberly, Treasurer; I. Waldecher, Seoretary, A. Capture of Geo getown Wagons Londed with Provisions by the stebels.

with Provisions by the stebels.

Mr. P. T. Miburn, of Georgetown, D. C., had a two borse wagon captured by the rebels at Leesburg within the past few days. The wagon was loaded with butter, eggs, chickons, &a., and driven by a brother of Mr. M., who was bringing the goods to Georgetown for his brother. He was captured with the team. The horses, wagon, and contents, were valued at about $1,000.

Two other wagous loaded with butter for Mr. James Payne, of the same place, were taken by the robels on the road this side of Leesburg, about the same time. These men are thoroughly loyal and good Union men. The owners of the horses and wagons who were captured are also loyal, and their all is invested in their teams.

What will our dovernment do in the way of retailation for this molestation and robbory of peaceful citizens?

Death of a Wounded Soldier.

A wounded soldier, Ferdinand Groth, of Euston, Pennsylvania, belonging to the Fourth New York regiment, and who sand he had friends in New Brunswick. New Jersey, was left at a farm house about a mile from Fairiax Court House, on the evening of Sunday isst, and died a few hours affer. It is possible that this notice may meet the eye of some relative or friend, any meet the eye of some relative or friend, and for their satisfaction it may be stated that he had every attention in bis last moments that could be shown him under the creusatances. His wound was in the abdomes, and he was left at this place, his situation being such as to render it impossible to convey him further in the ambulance. His remains were decently interred.

A Knock Bows.

Quits an excitement occurred last evening at the corner of Seventh and F streets. A gentleman from the "Green Isle," in an argument, manifested such strong partisan feeling as to say he "hoped every general would get whipped." A leviander tien said, "You must be a kind of secossiculst." "I think I am, was the reply. The words were no sender out of his m outh than down he went, cutting his face pretty badly. The gentleman then walked away. This is only a specimen of the spirit which exists here and elsewhere in profusion.

A Murder Case.

Mr. Berry somewhat questioned its expediency.
On taking the vote, it passed without dissent, the removal of a stable on the western termination of Prospect sixes without work.

A number of accounts and messages were received from the Mayor in relation to street also, a communication from W. Bobluson, in relation to Hucksturs; which were referred to appropriate committees in the Board of Common Council.
Both Boards adjourned to Priday evening,

Arrest of a Robel Recruiting Officer. Some anxiety has been falt in relation to the spallant Colonei, he not having been heard from since the last engagement. Information has been received from him, and he is safe and wall, and is an acting brigadier general.

Drunken Union Officers.

Last night one of our best and most popular places of amisement was the scene of a most diagraceful disturbance, in consequence of the presence of three drunken military officers, who went to the door and paid for parquetic tickets, but went into the orohestra. The usber demanded the additional fee, which one of the party offered to pay, but another refused to allow him to do so. A row conseq, and some were knocked down. The police were sent for, and the three disturbers were arrested and taken to the Third ward station. One man taxen his name as Gant. Mistoch Martin, of the Bitty-ninth New York regiment, another as an assistant quartermaster of the same regiment, while the third, whom the others called." Doctor," refused to give his name. They were tarned over to the military authorities.

What should be said of officers of our army who will conduct themselves in this manner? We fear that General Watsworth's order is not strictly enforced, or class the ale and beer possesses that powerfully intoticating property which its ardent friends deny it.

Praying for a Rabel.

In St. Aloysius Cathelio Church, to-day, the Rev. Father who delivered the sermon asked the prayers of the congregation for the soul of the late Assistant Adjutant General Blount, of the Confedrate army, killed in battle on the Elat of June. The reverned gentleman said that the deceased had been a student at Georgetown College forty years ago, and that he was his prace-for and knew him to be a man devoted to God.—Washington correspondent Ballimore Sun.

The One Hundred and Twenty-second New York regiment, from Syracuse and vicinity, ar-rived here yesterday, and were fed at Mrs. Falce's test, on the Island, whom the boys cheered lustily. They passed over into Dixie yesterday. They are a fine body of troope. The Twentieth Michigan and the One Hundred and Thirty ninth Pennsylvacia also passed up the Avenue, looking well. Recruits for regiments in the field are con-stantly arriving.

Dog Without License.

Dog Without License.
William Babbington was arrested last Wednerday forences, by Officer Pendle, of the Fourth ward, on the charge of keeping a dog without license. It was taken before Justice Walter, and fined $5.39. Served him right. We never could see the sense or reason for a man who earns his living by his daily toil, to add to bis expenses the keeping of a yolping, snarling, hing cur.

Are now filled with our soldiers, most of whom are suffering with dangerous wounds received in our late buttles. We are pleased to find that Sargeons Nichols and Cr. Fg. nare equal to the re-possibility develving on thom. On Monday they were up during the whole uight alleviating the patus of the "branes" who are suffering for their country's cause.
